 This is a div I will define as the banner section as it is the top of the page and will immediately identify the user as to the site they are on. This font will be fitting in with other fonts in that it will be using Calibri light due to its readability and availability. This section will also include the site logo aligned to the left of the banner.

<nav> The nav section listed above will give links readily available to the Home page, Admin, Find out more, credits and wireframe. The font will be Calibri light to fit with the flow of the site but in bold to define them against regular text. The nav will be in a list style so that the information of the page is kept central. </nav>

About us

<main> This section will include the about us section of the Chollerton Tearooms. This will include opening times of the Chollerton Tearooms. I have chosen Calibri light as my font for this section as it is readable and readily available on most systems, with backup fonts consisting of sans-serif and Helvetica. There is a margin of 1px just so that the text does not sit flush with the box and gives a contained feeling.

Our Facilities

This section will include descriptions of the facilities available to Chollerton Tearooms, such as the tearoom itself, the bed and breakfast facilities as well as the post office and craft shop.

This section also describes the types of tea available.
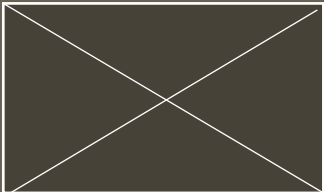

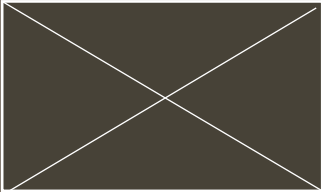

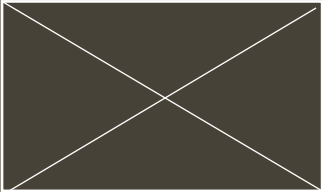

<aside>News Feed </aside>

This section will include special information such as Christmas opening times and site deployment date. It will also feature the most recent news from the tearoom when such information becomes available.

I have chosen Calibri font for this due to its ease of reading and relaxing design. The colour palette chosen for its familiarity with the colour of tea, as the site is designed to aim at an older audience, simplicity was also considered.

Image Gallery

<section id="gallery"> This section will include a gallery of images to showcase the facilities available to customers at Chollerton Tearooms. Text will not be defined here as text is not used in this section. The background of this section will match the background of the site to give it and ingrained style. </section>

<footer> the footer section will include a site index link for accessibility. The footer section will also contain copyright information such as the copyright status of the images used as well as who developed the site. The index link will be made in italics as well as underlined to define it as a link to a separate page.
